

Saturday 16 September

11.00 am - Daragh Curran -
'Crime and Criminals in Carleton's Clogher'

12.00 pm - Aidan Fee -
'Counsellor Marcus Costello 1800 - 1868:
rising without trace.'

Lunch 1.00 - 2.15pm

2.15 pm - Noel Monahan -
'Landscape as a major symbol in the poetry of John Montague'.

3.15 pm - Mark Bailey -
'The McKim Observatory; Carleton and Clogher'.

Coffee

4.15 pm -
Dramatised Reading from Carleton's
'The Party Fight and Funeral'
devised by Liam Foley.

Summer School Rates

2 days: £85.00 (£78 concession) includes lunch

1 day: £48.00 (£44 concession) includes lunch

Morning/Afternoon Session £18

Lunch not included

Single event £9 (£7 concession)

Comhairle Ceantair
Lár Uladh
Mid Ulster
District Council

SUNDAY 17 SEPTEMBER

A Day Out in Carleton Country and beyond ...

Coach Tour

Leaving Corick House

at 10.30 am: return by 5.30 pm

led by Jack Johnston and Pat
Montague.

Visiting sites associated with William
Carleton,

Rose Kavanagh,
Archbishop John Hughes,
Robert Bratton,
Benedict Kiely
and John Montague.

Lunch in Kelly's Inn @ 1.30 pm

Booking advisable:

wcarletonsociety@gmail.com

An Evening of Music and Song in St Patrick's Church, Clogher

7.30 - 9.30 pm

featuring

Eilis Lavelle, harper:

David Bell, guitarist and singer;

Caroline Jones, soprano;

Gail Evans, piano;

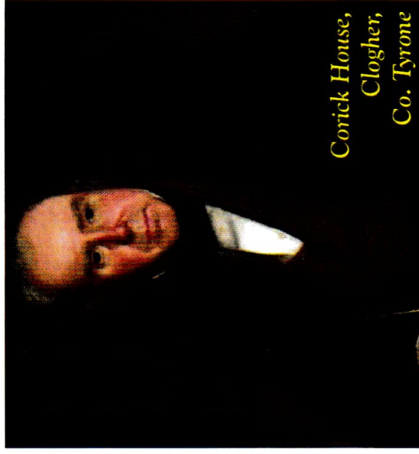

Clogher Valley Area WI Choir.

Admission: £7.00/ £5.00 concession

WILLIAM CARLETON
SUMMER SCHOOL 2017

CORICK HOUSE

15 - 17 SEPTEMBER

Corick House,
Clogher,
Co. Tyrone

William Carleton (1794 - 1869)

Welcome to the Clogher Valley - the home of the William Carleton Summer

School where matters

literary, historical and social

provide food for the soul.

Enquiries:

www.williamcarletonsociety.org

wiliamcarletonsociety@gmail.com

ranfurly@midulstercouncil.org

028/04887728600

15TH SEPTEMBER - 17TH SEPTEMBER

Welcome

We hope you enjoy your visit to the 26th William Carleton Summer School.

A particular word of thanks to our contributors, speakers and performers who have enthusiastically chosen to be part of our celebration of William Carleton.

The focus this year is, unapologetically, somewhat wider than in many previous Carleton gatherings. But we certainly live in 'interesting times' and the Summer School has always relished its role as a forum for the full and frank exchange of views.

Our thanks go to our friends in Mid-Ulster District Council for their much valued support in this unique venture, and to our hosts at Corick House Hotel.

Malcolm Duffey (Chair, WCSS)

All events take place in Corick Country House and Spa, unless where otherwise indicated.

Friday 15th 11.00 am

Official opening of 2017 William Carleton Summer School by Councillor Kim Ashton, Chair of Mid-Ulster District Council.

followed by
Ian McElhinney:
reading from Seamus Heaney's 'Station Island'

12.00 Brian Lambkin -

'Funeral and Wake Customs with Reference to Carleton'.

Lunch 1.00 - 2.15pm

2.15 pm - Ciaran McKeown - 'A Vision of the Future rooted in the Past'.

3.15 - 3.45 pm - Mary Montague reading from her Poetry.

Coffee

4.15 pm - Anthony Soares - 'Creativity and its Limits in the Approaches to Brexit'.

7.00 PM - 'TREAD SOFTLY BEYOND BREXIT?'

A Symposium chaired by Michael Fisher

Panellists:-

Garrett Carr, Patrick Mulroe, Allison Morris and Eamonn McCann.